DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 40, drawn to a coder assembly for printing on containers or on labels that can be applied to containers, the coder assembly comprising: a base; a support member movably coupled to the base; a coder supported by the support member and movable with the support member relative to the base.
- II. Claim 41, drawn to a coder assembly for printing on containers or on labels that can be applied to containers, the coder assembly comprising: a base; a support member movably coupled to the base; a coder supported by the support member and movable with the support member relative to the base; and a plurality of abutment members between the support member and the base, wherein the abutment members are configured to limit the spacing between the support member and the base; wherein the plurality of abutment members are carried on a turret, and wherein the turret is adjustable to selectively position any one of the plurality of abutment members between the support member and the base.
- III. Claim 42, drawn to a coder assembly for printing on containers or on labels that can be applied to containers, the coder assembly comprising: a base having a bottom surface supported by a machine surface; a coder; a support member configured to support the coder, the support member cantilevered from the base and spaced from the machine surface such that no portion of the support member or the coder is in contact with the machine surface; and a plurality of abutment members between the support member and the base, wherein the abutment members are configured to limit the spacing between the support member and the base; wherein the plurality of abutment members are carried on a turret, and wherein the turret is adjustable to selectively position any one of the plurality of abutment members between the support member and the base.

Inventions I, II, and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as selectively locking a support member to the base using a latch mechanism so that the support member is substantially immovable with respect to the base. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 3-4, 6-17, 19-21, 23-24, and 26-30 are considered generic.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Leonard S. Liang whose telephone number is (571) 272-2148.
